We own and subscribe to leading industry information services for the most current market information, including property profiles, farm reports and mortgage records. We have access to secure Internet-based databases with millions of public real estate records and documents. We can prepare and deliver preliminary reports and commitments electronically to multiple locations.

We provide real estate professionals with the most current ownership information available through a variety of sources to assist them in selling property and locating the next opportunity. In addition, we provide a variety of real estate insurance products to national lenders ranging from full ALTA policies to limited coverage policies.

2. Title Services

Insured ownership is at the heart of every transaction.

We work to remove any recorded encumbrances which are inconsistent with the terms of the transaction. We offer traditional, fully-insured products like ALTA policies, as well as innovative products and insurance policies in the refinance, second mortgage and equity markets. We respond quickly to unique circumstances with flexible and creative approaches to title insurance.

3. Escrow Services

The careful management of assets ensures a smooth transaction.

We coordinate and process the entire real estate and mortgage closing procedure. Our services include: document gathering, preparation and delivery of the Closing Disclosure when required, loan funds disbursement, escrow withholding and document recording with the appropriate government authority; all done in accordance with our clients' instructions. We serve as a neutral third party working to benefit the entire transaction and the parties involved. Our escrow personnel are proficient at complying with complicated escrow instructions.

Escrow

WHAT IS ESCROW?

Making a very large purchase, such as a house, causes buyers, sellers and lenders to seek reassurance about all the security measures that are in place to protect the funds involved in the closing transaction. Transferring large sums of money and finalizing the details of your sale needs to be done safely and in compliance with the latest security and privacy standards. To help minimize risks during real estate transactions, the escrow/settlement process was developed to protect the buyer, seller and lender.

An escrow account is basically a temporary pass through account held by the escrow holder. The escrow holder is a neutral third party that holds funds and related documents in a secure manner while the parties work through the details of the real estate transaction. Escrow ensures the conditions of the real estate transaction have been met before the property and/or money change hands.

HOW DOES ESCROW WORK?

The escrow process starts when a party to a real estate transaction (seller, seller's agent, buyer or buyer's agent) opens the escrow after a written sale agreement is reached. Upon opening, the escrow holder should be provided with the terms of the sale and the information necessary to carry out tasks. The escrow holder's duties and the timing of key tasks vary between states.

While your real estate transaction is in escrow, your escrow officer and agent will work with you to make sure the right steps are taken at the right time. Tasks that the escrow holder may complete include:

- Coordinating communications between all parties in the transaction
- Preparing written escrow instructions
- Requesting a preliminary report or commitment
- Requesting a statement of identity (information) from the buyer or seller as needed
- Ordering demands or beneficiary statements
- Receiving bills from home warranty companies, as well as pest, roof, home and other inspection companies
- Preparing or securing the deed or other recordable documents
- Complying with lender's requirements
- Prorating taxes, interest, insurance and rents
- Receiving purchase funds required for closing
- Coordinating recording of deeds and any other necessary documents
- Closing escrow when all the instructions of the buyer, seller and lender have been carried out
- Disbursing funds as authorized, including charges for title insurance, recording fees, real estate commissions and loan payoffs
- Preparing final statements for the parties, which account for the disposition of all funds deposited in escrow

When all instructions in escrow have been carried out to the satisfaction of each party, the escrow is ready to be closed. With closing, the title to the property is transferred to the buyer, the sales proceeds are paid over to the seller, necessary documents are recorded and title insurance is issued. It is important to note that the escrow holder does not offer legal advice, negotiate the transaction or offer investment advice.

ESCROW PROCESS

For loan applications taken after October 3, 2015, the buyer/consumer must receive the new Closing Disclosure (CD) at least three business days prior to the date the buyer/consumer is scheduled to sign the loan documents.

'KNOW BEFORE YOU OWE' MORTGAGE DISCLOSURE TERMS

Closing Disclosure – The five-page Closing Disclosure, also referred to as CD, must be provided to the consumer three business days before they sign their loan documents. The Closing Disclosure details all of the costs associated with their mortgage transaction.

Consummation – Consummation is not the same thing as closing or settlement. Consummation occurs when the consumer becomes legally obligated to the creditor on the loan, not, for example, when the consumer becomes contractually obligated to a seller on a real estate transaction.

Loan Estimate – A three-page Loan Estimate (LE) must be provided to the consumer no later than three business days after they submit a loan application for most mortgages. The Loan Estimate provides information about key features, costs and risks of the mortgage loan for which the consumer is applying.

Redisclosure – For covered transactions under the TILA-RESPA Integrated Disclosure (TRID) Rule and under very specific circumstances, the Loan Estimate and/or the Closing Disclosure may be revised and delivered to the consumer.

Three-Day Review Period – For transactions covered under the TRID Rule, the creditor is generally required to ensure that the consumer (borrower) receives the Closing Disclosure no later than three business days prior to the consummation of the loan.

TOP 10 THINGS CONSUMERS SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE CLOSING PROCESS

1. Time is of the Essence

- To avoid delays or a postponement of your closing, be sure to respond to lender and escrow officer requests immediately.
- Work closely with your lender, real estate agent and escrow officer to avoid delays.

2. You Have a Choice

- When it comes to service providers associated with your closing, you have a choice. This includes the company that will close your transaction and most inspectors, just to name a few. In certain areas, the seller will pay for some closing costs and thus will be entitled to select the vendor(s).
- Talk to your lender, real estate agent and escrow officer to obtain additional information about the various service providers and fees.

3. Protecting your Information - Secured Emails

- As an additional security measure to protect your non-public personal information, you may receive secured emails from your lender and escrow officer.
- You will need to follow the instructions for retrieving that information (which will likely require you to create an account) and make sure that you return any information through the secured email system.

4. Loan Estimate (LE)

- The Loan Estimate (LE) will be sent to you within three days of your loan application. You may receive multiple copies of the LE if there are any changes in circumstance(s).
- The terms provided on the LE will also appear on the Closing Disclosure (CD). Lenders are required to explain any changes in fees on the CD.

5. Preparing for Closing

- Approximately 10 – 14 days before you are scheduled to sign your documents, you should be prepared to communicate with your lender, real estate agent and escrow officer. It will be important for you to provide your hazard insurance information.
- NOTE: Wiring instructions will be subject to strict verifications to prevent fraud. Discuss this with your closing professionals well in advance.

6. Closing Disclosure (CD)

- A closing statement called the Closing Disclosure (CD) will be used for most loan applications processed after October 3, 2015. The CD will be sent directly to you (buyer/consumer) and not your real estate agent.
- The CD is designed to make it easy for you to understand the terms of your loan.

7. Three-Day Review Period

- The Closing Disclosure (CD) must be delivered to the buyer/consumer at least three business days prior to signing the documents.
- If the CD is delivered via email, it is important to acknowledge receipt to avoid additional delays.
- The CD may also be mailed seven days in advance and does not require proof of receipt.
- This time allows you to share it with your agent, attorney and/or financial advisor, and ask questions or get clarification from your lender about the terms and conditions of your loan.

8. Lender's Title Insurance Policy

- Lenders typically require their borrowers to purchase a Lender's Title Insurance Policy for the purchase loan(s).
- The fees are usually based on the amount of the loan(s).
- A lender's policy protects only the lender's interests should a problem with the title arise.

9. Owner's Title Insurance Policy

- Research the value and importance of an Owner's Title Insurance Policy early on in the process of obtaining a loan and closing on the purchase of your home.
- Homebuyers often assume that the Lender's Title Insurance Policy protects them from challenges to their ownership rights in the property being acquired. This is not the case. Instead, the homebuyer's interests are protected by an Owner's Title Insurance Policy. This insurance coverage typically protects against adverse matters such as ownership challenges, errors and omissions in deeds, forgery and undisclosed heirs, among other things. It also provides coverage for the attorney's fees that arise where legal challenges to your property's ownership occur. Its cost is typically based on the home's total purchase price, and is a one-time fee paid at closing.

10. Ask Questions

- This is one of the most important purchases of your life. Do not be afraid to ask questions of your lender, real estate agent and escrow officer.

Consumers are given more time to consider their options because the closing disclosure (CD) form is now provided three days before signing documents.

AVOID ESCROW PITFALLS

Will any of these situations affect your transaction?

- Are your principals exchanging this property?
- Will your principals be using a power of attorney?
- Are any of the parties on title deceased?
- Has there been a change of marital status?
- Do any of the parties signing NOT have a photo ID or driver's license?
- Will there be a new entity formed (e.g. partnership or corporation)?
- Have any of the principals recently filed for bankruptcy?
- Are the sellers of this property not residents of the State of Hawaii?
- Are any of the principals minors?

If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, please contact your Escrow Officer.

BEWARE OF WIRE FRAUD

According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), U.S. victims of email account compromise reported losses of $13.3 billion between 2016 and 2020.

The FBI's Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3) receives, on average, 2,000 complaints a day (FBI, 2020).

Cybercriminals are sending fraudulent wiring instructions to real estate agents, title companies and clients, so it's important to remain vigilant.

How to Protect Yourself

- Be wary of free, web-based email accounts; they are easily hacked.
- Slow down and read every email carefully – even those that appear to come from a trusted source.
- Do not click on suspicious links or attachments.
- Always verify changes in payment instructions and confirm requests for transfer of funds.
- Carefully evaluate any requests for secrecy or pressure to take action quickly.
- Call, don't email. Confirm all wiring instructions by phone before transferring funds. Use the phone number from the title company's website or a business card.
- Be suspicious. It's not common for title companies to change wiring instructions and payment information.
- Confirm it all. Ask your bank to confirm not just the account numbers but also the name on the account before sending a wire.
- Verify immediately. You should call the title company or real estate agent to confirm receipt of funds. If you wired funds into the wrong account, reporting it to authorities within 24 hours gives you the best chance of recovering the money.
- Forward, don't reply. When responding to an email, hit forward instead of reply and then start typing in the person's email address. Criminals use email addresses that are very similar to legitimate business email addresses. By manually entering a good email address, you make it easier to connect with a real professional instead of a fraudster posing as one.

If you think you might be a victim:

1. Using a previously known phone number, call the supposed sender of the email to authenticate the change request — NEVER call the number in this email.
2. If you suspect fraud, immediately notify the financial institutions and escrow agent involved in the transaction.
3. Contact your local law enforcement authorities, and file a complaint with the FBI's Internet Crime Complaint Center.

Preliminary Report

PRELIMINARY REPORTS — SOME BASICS

After months of searching, you've finally found it: your perfect dream home. But is it perfect? Will you be purchasing more than just a beautiful home? Will you also be acquiring liens placed on the property by prior owners? Have documents been recorded that will restrict your use of the property?

The preliminary report will provide you with the opportunity, prior to purchase, to review matters affecting your property which will be excluded from coverage under your title insurance policy unless removed or eliminated before your purchase.

What is a preliminary report?

A preliminary report is a report prepared prior to issuing a policy of title insurance that shows the ownership of a specific parcel of land, together with the liens and encumbrances thereon which will not be covered under a subsequent title insurance policy.

What role does a preliminary report play in the real estate process?

A preliminary report contains the conditions under which the title company will issue a particular type of title insurance policy.

The preliminary report lists, in advance of purchase, title defects, liens and encumbrances which would be excluded from coverage if the requested title insurance policy were to be issued as of the date of the preliminary report. The report may then be reviewed and discussed by the parties to a real estate transaction and their agents.

Thus, a preliminary report provides the opportunity to seek the removal of items referenced in the report which are objectionable to the buyer prior to purchase.

When and how is the preliminary report produced?

Shortly after escrow is opened, an order will be placed with the title company which will then begin the process involved in producing the report.

This process calls for the assembly and review of certain recorded matters relative to both the property and the parties to the transaction. Examples of recorded matters include a deed of trust recorded against the property or a lien recorded against the buyer or seller for an unpaid court award or unpaid taxes.

These recorded matters are listed numerically as "exceptions" in the preliminary report. They will remain exceptions from title insurance coverage unless eliminated or released prior to the transfer of title.

What should I look for when reading my preliminary report?

You will be interested, primarily, in the extent of your ownership rights. This means you will want to review the ownership interest in the property you will be buying and the description of the property, as well as any claims, restrictions or interests of other people involving the property.

The report will note in a statement of vesting the degree, quantity, nature and extent of the owner's interest in the real property. The most common form of interest is "fee simple" or "fee" which is the highest type of interest an owner can have in land.

Liens, restrictions and interests of others which are being excluded from coverage will be listed numerically as "exceptions" in the preliminary report. These may be claims by creditors who have liens or liens for payment of taxes or assessments. There may also be recorded restrictions which have been placed in a prior deed or contained in what are termed "CC&Rs (covenants, conditions and restrictions)." Finally, interests of third parties are not uncommon and may include easements given by a prior owner which limit your use of the property. When you buy property, you may not wish to have these claims or restrictions on your property. Instead, you may want to clear the unwanted items prior to purchase.

In addition to the limitations noted above, a printed list of standard exceptions and exclusions listing items not covered by your title insurance policy may be attached as an exhibit item to your report. Unlike the numbered exclusions, which are specific to the property you are buying, these are standard exceptions and exclusions appearing in title insurance policies. The review of this section is important, as it sets forth matters which will not be covered under your title insurance policy, but which you may wish to investigate, such as governmental laws or regulations governing building and zoning.

Will the preliminary report disclose the complete condition of the title to a property?

No. It is important to note that the preliminary report is not a written representation as to the condition of title and may not list all liens, defects and encumbrances affecting title to the land, but merely report the current ownership and matters that the title company will exclude from coverage if a title insurance policy should later be issued.

Is a preliminary report the same thing as title insurance?

Definitely not. A preliminary report is an offer to insure; it is not a report of a complete history of recorded documents relating to the property. A preliminary report is a statement of terms and conditions of the offer to issue a title insurance policy, not a representation as to the condition of title.

These distinctions are important for the following reasons: first, no contract or liability exists until the title insurance policy is issued; second, the title insurance policy is issued to a particular insured person and others cannot claim the benefit of the policy.

Can I be protected against title risks prior to the close of the real estate transaction?

Yes, you can. Title companies can protect your interest through the issuance of “binders” and “commitments.”

A binder is an agreement to issue insurance giving temporary coverage until such time as a formal policy is issued. A commitment is a title insurer’s contractual obligation to insure title to real property once its stated requirements have been met.

Discuss with your title insurer the best means to protect your interests.

How do I go about clearing unwanted liens and encumbrances?

You will wish to carefully review the preliminary report. Should the title to the property be clouded, you and your agents will work with the seller and the seller’s agents to clear the unwanted liens and encumbrances prior to taking title.

Title Insurance

WHAT IS TITLE INSURANCE AND HOW DOES IT WORK?

To put it simply, title insurance is a way to protect yourself from financial loss and related legal expenses in the event there is a defect in title to your property that is covered by the policy. Title insurance differs from other types of insurance in that it focuses on risk prevention, rather than risk assumption. With title insurance, title examiners review the history of your property and seek to eliminate title issues before the purchase occurs. Title insurance also differs in that it comes with no monthly payment. It's just a one-time premium paid at closing.

Do I need title insurance?

Absolutely. Title insurance is a way to protect what is likely your largest investment — your home. An Owner's Policy provides peace of mind that your title company will stand behind you if a covered title issue or defect arises after you have bought your home.

What does title insurance cover?

Any number of title issues may arise, even after the most meticulous search of public records. These hidden defects are dangerous because you might not learn about them for months, or even years, after purchase. Some common examples of risks covered by your Owner's Policy include defects in title caused by:

- Improper execution of documents
- Mistakes in recording or indexing legal documents
- Forgeries and fraud
- Undisclosed or missing heirs
- Unpaid taxes and assessments
- Unpaid judgments and liens
- Unreleased mortgages
- Mental incompetence of grantors on the deed
- Impersonation of the true owners of the land by fraudulent persons
- Refusal of a potential purchaser to accept title based on the condition of the title

How much does title insurance cost?

The one-time premium that you'll pay for a title insurance policy varies by state, but generally is related to the value of your property. You can use our Rate Calculator to estimate how much your title insurance policy may cost.

What is owner's title insurance?

An Owner's Policy of Title Insurance is designed to protect you from covered title defects that existed prior to the issue date of your policy. If a valid claim is filed, your Owner's Policy, subject to its terms and conditions, will cover financial loss up to the face amount of your policy. There are 2 types of title insurance policies: the Owner's Standard Policy and Homeowner's Policy. See page 22 for more details.

What is lender's title insurance?

A Lender's Policy of Title Insurance provides no coverage to the homeowner. A Lender's Policy ensures that your lender has a valid, enforceable lien on your property. Most lenders require borrowers to purchase this type of insurance policy to protect their investment.

29 COVERED RISKS FOR THE HOMEOWNER'S POLICY

1. Someone else owns an interest in your title.
2. Someone else has rights affecting your title because of leases, contracts, or options.
3. Someone else claims to have rights affecting your title because of forgery or impersonation.
4. Someone else has an easement on the land.
5. Someone else has a right to limit your use of the land.
6. Your title is defective. Some of the defects are:
 - someone else's failure to have authorized a transfer or conveyance of your title.
 - someone else's failure to create a valid document by electronic means.
 - a document upon which your title is based is invalid because it was not properly signed, sealed, acknowledged, delivered or recorded.
 - a document upon which your title is based was signed using a falsified, expired, or otherwise invalid power of attorney.
 - a document upon which your title is based was not properly filed, recorded, or indexed in the public records.
 - a defective judicial or administrative proceeding.
7. Any of Covered Risks 1 through 6 occurring after the policy date.
8. Someone else has a lien on your title, including a:
 - lien of real estate taxes or assessments imposed on your title by a government authority that are due or payable, but unpaid;
 - mortgage;
 - judgment, state or federal tax lien;
 - charge by a homeowner's or condominium association; or
 - lien, occurring before or after the policy date, for labor and material furnished before the policy date.
9. Someone else has an encumbrance on your title.
10. Someone else claims to have rights affecting your title because of fraud, duress, incompetency or incapacity.
11. You do not have actual vehicular and pedestrian access to and from the land, based upon a legal right.

12. You are forced to correct or remove an existing violation of any covenant, condition or restriction affecting the land, even if the covenant, condition or restriction is excepted in Schedule B. However, you are not covered for any violation that relates to:

- any obligation to perform maintenance or repair on the land; or
- environmental protection of any kind, including hazardous or toxic conditions or substances

unless there is a notice recorded in the public records, describing any part of the land, claiming a violation exists. Our liability for this covered risk is limited to the extent of the violation state in the notice.

13. Your title is lost or taken because of a violation of any covenant, condition or restriction, which occurred before you acquired your title, even if the covenant, condition or restriction is excepted in Schedule B.

14. Because of an existing violation of a subdivision law or regulation affecting the land:

- you are unable to obtain a building permit;
- you are required to correct or remove the violation; or
- someone else has a legal right to, and does, refuse to perform a contract to purchase the land, lease it or make a mortgage loan on it.

The amount of your insurance for this covered risk is subject to your deductible amount and our maximum dollar limit of liability showing in Schedule A.

15. You are forced to remove or remedy your existing structures, or any part of them — other than boundary walls or fences — because any portion was built without obtaining a building permit from the proper government office. The amount of your insurance for this covered risk is subject to your deductible amount and our maximum dollar limit of liability shown in Schedule A.

16. You are forced to remove or remedy your existing structures, or any part of them, because they violate an existing zoning law or zoning regulation. If you are required to remedy any portion of your existing structures, the amount of your insurance for this covered risk is subject to your deductible amount and our maximum dollar limit of liability shown in Schedule A.

17. You cannot use the land because use as a single-family residence violates an existing zoning law or zoning regulation.

18. You are forced to remove your existing structures because they encroach onto your neighbor's land. If the encroaching structures are boundary walls or fences, the amount of your insurance for this covered risk is subject to your deductible amount and our maximum dollar limit of liability shown in Schedule A.

19. Someone else has a legal right to, and does, refuse to perform a contract to purchase the land, lease it or make a mortgage loan on it because your neighbor's existing structures encroach onto the land.
20. You are forced to remove your existing structures which encroach onto an easement or over a building set-back line, even if the easement or building set-back line is excepted in Schedule B.
21. Your existing structures are damaged because of the exercise of a right to maintain or use any easement affecting the land, even if the easement is excepted in Schedule B.
22. Your existing improvements (or a replacement or modification made to them after the policy date), including lawns, shrubbery or trees, are damaged because of the future exercise of a right to use the surface of the land for the extraction or development of minerals, water or any other substance, even if those rights are excepted or reserved from the description of the land or excepted in Schedule B.
23. Someone else tries to enforce a discriminatory covenant, condition or restriction that they claim affects your title which is based upon race, color, religion, sex, handicap, familial status, or national origin.
24. A taxing authority assesses supplemental real estate taxes not previously assessed against the land for any period before the policy date because of construction or a change of ownership or use that occurred before the policy date.
25. Your neighbor builds any structures after the policy date — other than boundary walls or fences — which encroach onto the land.
26. Your title is unmarketable, which allows someone else to refuse to perform a contract to purchase the land, lease it or make a mortgage loan on it.
27. Someone else owns an interest in your title because a court order invalidates a prior transfer of the title under federal bankruptcy, state insolvency, or similar creditors' rights laws.
28. The residence with the address shown in Schedule A is not located on the land at the policy date.
29. The map, if any, attached to this policy does not show the correct location of the land according to the public records.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT TITLE INSURANCE

Q. What does title insurance insure?

A. Title insurance offers protection against claims resulting from various defects (as set out in the policy) which may exist in the title to a specific parcel of real property effective on the issue date of the policy. For example, a person might claim to have a deed or lease giving them ownership or the right to possess your property. Another person could claim to hold an easement giving them a right of access across your land. Yet another person may claim that they have a lien on your property securing the repayment of a debt. That property may be an empty lot or it may hold a 50-story office tower. Title companies work with all types of real property.

Q. How much can I expect to pay for title insurance?

A. This point is often misunderstood. Although the title company or escrow office usually serves as a meeting ground for closing the sale, only a small percentage of total closing fees are actually for title insurance protection. Your title insurance premium may actually amount to less than 1% of the purchase price of your home and less than 10% of your total closing costs. The title policy is good for as long as you and your heirs own the property with the payment of only one premium.

Q. Why are separate owner's and lender's title insurance policies issued?

A. Both you and your lender will want the security offered by title insurance. As the owner, you will want assurances that the home is yours and that you are protected against certain title defects. Your lender will likely want title insurance in order to protect its loan security interest, and may even be required to have a lender's policy in place in order to sell the loan to secondary market investors.

Q. What are my chances of ever using my title policy?

A. In essence, by acquiring your policy, you derive the important knowledge that recorded matters have been searched and examined so that title insurance covering your property can be issued.

When a title company provides a legal defense against claims covered by your title insurance policy, the savings to you for that legal defense alone will greatly exceed the one-time premium.

Because title insurance companies are risk eliminators, the probability of exercising your right to make a claim is very low. However, claims against your property may not be valid, making the continuous protection of the policy all the more important.

Q. What if I am buying property from someone I know?

A. You may not know the owner as well as you think you do. People undergo changes in their personal lives that may affect title to their property. People get divorced, change their wills and engage in transactions that limit the use of the property and have liens and judgments placed against them personally for various reasons.

There may also be matters affecting the property that are not obvious or known, even by the existing owner, which a title search and examination seeks to uncover as part of the process leading up to the issuance of the title policy.

Just as you wouldn't make an investment based on a phone call, you shouldn't buy real property without assurances as to your title. Title insurance provides these assurances.

The process of risk identification and elimination performed by the title companies, prior to the issuance of a title policy, benefits all parties in the property transaction.

Title insurance minimizes the chances that adverse claims might be raised, and by doing so reduces the number of claims that need to be defended or satisfied. This process keeps costs and expenses down for the title company and maintains the traditional low cost of title insurance.

HARPTA

The Hawaii Real Property Tax Act (HARPTA) of 1990 says that a sale of Hawaii Real Estate by a Non-Hawaii resident is subject to a Hawaii State Tax. The tax liability belongs to the seller, and 7.25% of the total sales price will be withheld and submitted to the State of Hawaii Department of Taxation.

There are some exemptions from this withholding:

- Hawaii Resident (Must fill out form N-289, which is provided to seller in opening instructions)
- Foreign corporations and partnerships which are registered to do business in the state of Hawaii (Must fill out form N-289, which is provided to seller in opening instructions)
- Property used as principal residence for year prior to the sale and sales price does not exceed $300,000

FIRPTA

Under the Foreign Investment in Real Property Tax Act (FIRPTA) of 1980, if a foreign person sells U.S. real property, the buyer is obligated to withhold 10% of the gross sales price and remit this to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). However, pursuant to the Protecting Americans from Tax Hikes Act of 2015, which became law on December 18, 2015 (the "PATH Act"), the required 10% withholding will increase to 15% for all closings occurring on or after February 17, 2016, except those wherein the sales price is greater than $300,000 and does not exceed $1 million and the buyer acquires the property for use as a personal residence. Under the circumstance, a reduced withholding of 10% will apply.

|--|-----------------|
| Sales Price $300,000 or less and the buyer acquires as personal residence | No Withholding |
| Sales Price more than $300,000 but not more than $1,000,000 and the buyer acquires as personal residence | 10% Withholding |
| All transactions; any Sales Price and the buyer NOT acquiring as personal residence | 15% Withholding |

In short, if a foreign person is selling a U.S. real property interest, the following parameters apply UNLESS THERE IS AN EXCEPTION FROM WITHHOLDING.

No withholding is required under the following circumstances:

- Buyer acquires for use as a personal residence and sales price not more than $300,000.
- Seller provides Non-Foreign Affidavit
- Seller provides a Withholding Certificate from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), which excuses the withholding
- The amount realized by the seller is zero
- The property is acquired by the United States or a political subdivision thereof

For more information on these taxes, please call the appropriate departments or visit their website.

Old Republic Exchange

WHAT IS A 1031 EXCHANGE?

The Internal Revenue Code (IRC) provides that a taxpayer may sell real property and defer payment of capital gains tax, if that taxpayer uses the proceeds to acquire a like-kind replacement property.

IRC §1031 provides that neither gain nor loss is recognized if property held for investment or productive use in trade of business is exchanged for property held for investment or productive use in a trade or business.

Why Exchange?

- Capital gains tax is significant;
- Reinvestment into replacement property allows taxpayers to leverage dollars that would otherwise be spent on taxes;
- Allows for non-income producing property to be replaced with income-producing property; and
- Allows taxpayer to diversify portfolio and minimize risk.

What We Do

- Act as a Qualified Intermediary (QI), as required by the Treasury Regulations;
- Prepare all documents required for the exchange;
- Consult with your tax advisor;
- Execute closing documents;
- Hold the exchange proceeds to avoid constructive receipt of funds; and
- Coordinate with the closing agents, real estate professional, and tax and legal advisors.

Always consult with your tax advisors. Their advice is essential to a successful tax-deferred exchange. Your tax professional will establish values, allocate sales and purchase price, and recommend the appropriate structure for your transaction. Old Republic Exchange does not provide tax or legal advice.

SEVEN GREAT REASONS TO EXCHANGE

While avoiding those steep capital gains taxes are, for most, the primary consideration for engaging in a 1031 tax deferred exchange, there are many other significant advantages to a tax deferred exchange:

1. Replace non-income producing property with income producing property;
2. Diversify property interests for estate planning purposes;
3. Replace time-consuming management properties with more easily managed properties;
4. Exchange into property that can accommodate the taxpayer's trade or business (e.g. taxpayer who owns apartment complex can trade into manufacturing plant);
5. Exchange fully depreciated property to obtain the benefit of a new depreciation schedule;
6. Relocation of taxpayer's business;
7. Relocation of investment property to accomplish ease of management.
